

Query ID: test402

Query Text: who created the borders of africa's countries

Retrieved Documents:

- 0 doc1575704 Economic history of Africa. All of Africa would ultimately fall under European colonial rule by 1914, with the exceptions of Ethiopia and Liberia.[24] The partitioning of African territory among Europ
- 0 doc468625 History of Africa. The history of Africa begins with the emergence of Homo sapiens in East Africa, and continues into the present as a patchwork of diverse and politically developing nation states. Th
- 0 doc468751 History of Africa. Between the 14th and 15th centuries, large Southeast African kingdoms and states emerged, such as the Buganda[169] and Karagwe[169] Kingdoms of Uganda and Tanzania.[citation needed]
- 0 doc1865288 Cape Route. The European colonization of Africa was before the late 19th century mostly limited to a few coastal outposts, to support the Cape Route. The Dutch East India Company founded the Dutch Cap
- 0 doc1408049 Cartography. Before 1749, maps of the African continent had African kingdoms drawn with assumed or contrived boundaries, with unknown or unexplored areas having drawings of animals, imaginary physical
- 0 doc190697 Decolonization. In 1945, Africa had four independent countries - Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia, and South Africa.
- 0 doc189669 History of West Africa. In 1725, the cattle-herding Fulanis of Fouta Djallon launched the first major reformist jihad of the region, overthrowing the local animist, Mande-speaking elites and attemptin
- 0 doc1289927 List of African countries by area.  Excluding all disputed lands (Western Sahara and Spanish territories)
- 0 doc1940886 Ethnic groups in South Africa. There have been other white immigration waves to South Africa in recent decades. In the 1970s, many Portuguese residents of African colonies such as Angola and Mozambiqu
- 0 doc511766 Environmental determinism. African states did not develop more responsive institutions under colonial rule or post-independence. Colonial powers had little incentive to develop state institutions to p
- 0 doc23440 Scramble for Africa. In addition, surplus capital was often more profitably invested overseas, where cheap materials, limited competition, and abundant raw materials made a greater premium possible. A
- 0 doc1615020 Economy of Africa. The situation whereby African nations export crops to the West while millions on the continent starve has been blamed on developed countries including Japan, the European Union and
- 0 doc2023383 Islands of Africa. Many continental African countries also include many islands within their territories. Some of these islands have witnessed rising secessionist movements, most notably the islands o
- 0 doc2513128 Post-classical history. During the Postclassical Era, Africa was both culturally and politically affected by the introduction of Islam and the Arabic empires.[62] This was especially true in the north
- 0 doc468672 History of Africa. The towns of Roman North Africa had a substantial Jewish population. Some Jews had been deported from Judea or Palestine in the 1st and 2nd centuries AD for rebelling against Roman
- 0 doc1825751 AfricaChina economic relations. Given current global growth, African leaders are looking to first build up infrastructure, but are also increasingly aware of the need to strengthen native industries
- 1 doc15047 Africa. In the late 19th century, the European imperial powers engaged in a major territorial scramble and occupied most of the continent, creating many colonial territories, and leaving only two full
- 0 doc184624 Berlin Conference. Before the conference, European diplomacy treated African indigenous people in the same manner as the New World natives, forming trading relationships with the indigenous chiefs. In
- 0 doc596366 West Africa. West Africa is west of an imagined north-south axis lying close to 10A east longitude.[18] The Atlantic Ocean forms the western as well as the southern borders of the West African region

0	doc1318898	African independence movements. The Portuguese were the first Europeans to claim territory in sub-Saharan Africa, and their example inspired imitation from other European powers. For the British, the
0	doc523683	Boundaries between the continents of Earth. The Seychelles, Mauritius, and Comoros are island nations in the Indian Ocean associated with Africa. The island of Socotra may be considered African as it
0	doc1575678	Economic history of Africa. The banana and other crops allowed for more intensive cultivation in the tropical regions of Africa, this was most notable in the Great Lakes region, and area with excellen
0	doc1825708	AfricaChina economic relations. Moreover, China's arrival on the world oil scene has been perturbing for established players. China has been attacked for its increasingly close relationship with rogu
0	doc1353650	Colonization of the Congo. At various times, he launched unsuccessful schemes to buy an Argentine province, to buy Borneo from the Dutch, rent the Philippines from Spain, or establish colonies in Chin
0	doc1126432	River. Rivers have been important in determining political boundaries and defending countries. For example, the Danube was a long-standing border of the Roman Empire, and today it forms most of the bo
0	doc189731	History of West Africa. Following the collapse of the Songhai Empire, a number of smaller states arose across West Africa, including the Bambara Empire of Segou, the lesser Bambara kingdom of Kaarta,
0	doc2099450	Mineral industry of Africa. The mineral industry is an important source of export earnings for many African nations. To promote exports, groups of African countries have formed numerous trade blocs, w
0	doc2021325	Poverty in Africa. What large sums of money that are in Africa are often used to develop mega-projects when the need is for smaller scale projects. For example, Ghana was the richest country in Africa
0	doc2562063	Malawi. In 1944, the Nyasaland African Congress (NAC) was formed by the Africans of Nyasaland to promote local interests to the British government.[20] In 1953, Britain linked Nyasaland with Northern
0	doc1891594	First Nigerian Republic. The name Nigeria is derived from the word Niger the name of the river that constitutes the most remarkable geographical feature of the country. Nigeria is a country of 9
0	doc175246	Colonial Nigeria. In the 1870s, therefore, George Taubman Goldie began amalgamating companies into the United African Company, soon renamed the National African Company.[12]
0	doc1847287	British South Africa Company. To forestall British designs on the parts of Mozambique and the interior that O'Neill claimed Portugal did not occupy, Joaquim Carlos Paiva de Andrada was commissioned in
0	doc1575668	Economic history of Africa. The earliest humans were hunter gatherers who were living in small, family groupings. Even then there was considerable trade that could cover long distances. Archaeologists
0	doc686788	Apartheid. Under the homeland system, the government attempted to divide South Africa into a number of separate states, each of which was supposed to develop into a separate nation-state for a differe
0	doc468784	History of Africa. Benin was never a significant exporter of slaves, as Alan Ryder's book Benin and the Europeans showed. By the early 18th century, it was wrecked with dynastic disputes and civil war
0	doc2310616	History of the Central African Republic. Production of copper, salt, dried fish, and textiles dominated the economic trade in the Central African region.[6]
0	doc832154	Battle of Adwa. As the 20th century approached, Africa had been carved up among the European powers at the Berlin Conference. The two independent exceptions were the Republic of Liberia on the west c
0	doc1695633	History of South African nationality. Despite the shared sense of white superiority, the English-speaking groups and the Afrikaners were pitted against one another in competition for political, econom
0	doc1825745	AfricaChina economic relations. Evidence has been provided by Sachs & Warner, 2001 that establishes:
0	doc2192400	Morocco. Morocco has a coast by the Atlantic Ocean that reaches past the Strait of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean Sea. It is bordered by Spain to the north (a water border through the Strait and lan
0	doc1398318	History of Nigeria. The Benin Empire (1440a1897; called Bini by locals) was a pre-colonial African state in what is now modern Nigeria. It should not be confused with the modern-day country called B

0	doc957030	Geography of Africa. These four river basins occupy the greater part of the lower plateaus of North and West Africa the remainder consists of arid regions watered only by intermittent streams that d
0	doc1792409	French West Africa. The Constitution of the French Fifth Republic of 1958 again changed the structure of the colonies from the French Union to the French Community. Each territory was to become a "Pro
0	doc596348	West Africa. Meanwhile, south of the Sudan, strong city states arose in Igboland, such as the 10th-century Kingdom of Nri, which helped birth the arts and customs of the Igbo people, Bono in the 12th
0	doc957007	Geography of Africa. Africa is a continent comprising 63 political territories, representing the largest of the great southward projections from the main mass of Earth's surface.[1] Within its regular
0	doc1785889	Ghana. Ghana is used as a key narcotics industry transshipment point by traffickers, usually from South America as well as some from other African nations.[79] "West Africa is completely weak in terms
0	doc1825741	AfricaChina economic relations. Both types create social tensions, economic conflict with local enterprises, lower short-term employment prospects for Africans, and an apparent ethnic hierarchy withi
0	doc1575721	Economic history of Africa. At various points during the late 20th century, the following debts were incurred by African governments (amounts are in billions of US dollars):[33]
0	doc1000592	Niger. Each of these communities, along with smaller ethnic groups like the pastoral Wodaabe Fula, brought their own cultural traditions to the new state of Niger. While successive post-independence g
0	doc1542124	History of science and technology in Africa. By the 12th century, so-called Moroccan leather, which actually came from the Hausa area of northern Nigeria, was supplied to Mediterranean markets and fou
0	doc1217245	KanemBornu Empire. Kanem's expansion peaked during the long and energetic reign of Mai Dunama Dabbalemi (ca. 12031242), also of the Sayfawa dynasty. Dabbalemi initiated diplomatic exchanges with sul
0	doc730389	Exploration of Africa. Soon after, the equator was crossed by Europeans . Portugal established a base in Sao Tome that, after 1485, was settled with criminals. After 1497, expelled Spanish and Portugu
0	doc691226	National security. The problem with the above is that a number of African states have been unable to govern their security in meaningful ways. Often failing to be able to claim the monopoly of force i
0	doc1528828	Independence of Brazil. The Spanish tried to prevent Portuguese expansion into the territory that belonged to them according to the 1494 Treaty of Tordesillas, and succeeded in conquering the Banda Or
0	doc617683	History of Kenya. Ignoring his suppression of the opposition and continued factionalism within KANU the imposition of one-party rule allowed Mzee ("Old Man") Kenyatta, who had led the country since in
0	doc1480987	Equatorial Guinea. In July 1970, Macias Nguema created a single-party state and made himself president for life in 1972. He broke off ties with Spain and the West. In spite of his condemnation of Marx
0	doc2253199	History of Rwanda. In the 1950s and early 1960s, a wave of Pan-Africanism swept through Central Africa, expressed by leaders such as Julius Nyerere in Tanzania and Patrice Lumumba in the Congo. Anti-c
0	doc175346	Colonial Nigeria. The Action Group, which staged a lively campaign, favoured stronger government and the establishment of three new states, while advocating creation of a West Africa Federation that w
0	doc88216	History of Cameroon. French Cameroon achieved independence on January 1, 1960 as La Republique du Cameroun. After Guinea, it was the second of France's colonies in Sub-Saharan Africa to become indepen
0	doc957025	Geography of Africa. To the main African rivers belong: Nile (the longest river of Africa), Congo (river with the highest water discharge on the continent) and the Niger, which flows half of its lengt

Non-retrieved Relevant Documents: